R. S. "Dick" Webb, Jr., entertained with a delightful banquet at the Phoenix Hotel Friday evening, following the game with Georgetown, in honor of the members of the Varsity and Freshmen football squads. From the cocktail, all through the delicious menu, to the last speech the evening was one of unlimited enjoyment and pleasure.

The banquet started off brilliantly with the entrance of a number of "college widowers" singing "Old Centre College She Ain't What She Used to Be." While the courses were being served, TNT, the mascot of the team engaged in a conflict with a dummy representing Centre and amid the applause and cheers of the enthusiastic spectators succeeded in completely vanquishing our ancient enemy.

Prof. Enoch Grehan, toastmaster, in a most entertaining and humorous manner gave a number of toasts to which the following responses were made:

Coach Juneau -----The Team
Capt. Pribble -----Training

FRESHMEN WILL PLAY GEORGETOWN SATURDAY

The University of Kentucky Freshmen will try to repeat their previous victory over the Georgetown Freshmen, Friday afternoon on Stoll Field. The Kittens handed the Baby Tigers a 54-0 trouncing several weeks ago and hopes are high for an even larger score Friday.

Several of the "Freshies" who were injured in the Center scrap will probably be given a rest so that they will be in condition for the return game with the Lieutenants November 11. Captain Kirwan and Evans received slight injuries and will not be seen in action Friday.

AMATEUR NIGHT IS TO BE HELD ON HALLOWE'EN

Program in Chapel to Be Followed
By Dance Given By University Council.

Hallowe'en night, October 31, has for many years been the night upon which the University of Kentucky dramatic talent is exhibited by the presentation of the best Stroller tryout presented for the season.

Preliminary tryouts began Thursday afternoon and will continue until Saturday evening. When all of the performances have been seen and judged by the student critics, selected for the purpose the three best productions of the one act plays will be announced and will be presented before the student body in the University chapel Tuesday evening, October 31 at 8 o'clock.

Every one is cordially invited to attend the Amateur night performance which is always one of the most delightful entertainments of the college year. Prizes will be awarded to the best of the plays and the judges for the contest will be Professor E. F. Farquhar, Mrs. Matt Walton and Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave, all three of whom are eminent dramatic critics.

Following the program presented by the Strollers the University council will entertain with a Hallowe'en party and dance in the gymnasium and armory. All students are invited.

K

NOTICE!

All students whose Lexington address has been changed since filling out their information cards at matriculation, are requested to give their new addresses to the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, or the Registrar. Please do this at once as the University is preparing a directory containing the names and addresses of the entire college community. This directory will, of course, be without value unless it gives the correct addresses. While the matter is fresh in your mind attend to it.

Unable to cope with the enormous reserve power of Harvard, the Fighting Colonels of Centre College went down in glorious defeat last Saturday at the Harvard Stadium. Captain Roberts' men fought bravely against overwhelming odds, outplaying the Cambridge member of the Big Three, during the last three periods.

The University of Kentucky offers its sincerest congratulations to its Danville neighbor for the valiant stand made last week and regret that Centre may not have the same opportunity next year.

KITTENS LOSE BITTER GAME TO LIEUTENANTS LAST FRIDAY - 14 TO 6

Yearlings Outplay Center Freshmen For Three Periods,
But Fail to Win.

KIRWAN AND EVANS HURT

Bad Break in Fourth Quarter
Causes Defeat—Return Game
November 11.

Fighting before a crowd of about three thousand persons, the local Freshman team was defeated by the Center Freshman eleven last Saturday by a score of 14 to 6. The Kittens outplayed the Lieutenant-Colonels by a wide margin in the first three quarters of the game, and, had it not been for the bad luck of the yearlings, they would have continued their victorious march through the fourth quarter.

However, the young Wildcats are confident that the game with the same team on November 11, on Stoll Field, will tell an entirely different tale.

Captain Kirwan, Evans and Tracy in the backfield, and King, Warren and Stevenson in the line, starred for Kentucky. Spurlock, Summers and Rabenstein played an outstanding game for Center. The injury to Captain Kirwan in the first quarter, and Evans in the third quarter, hampered somewhat the play of the Baby Cats, but it is thought that their injuries are not serious enough to keep either out for the season.

In the first quarter Evans received the ball from Center's kickoff and brought it back to the 65 yard line. A series of line bucks by Kirwan and Tracy with a 35 yard run around left end by Evans put the ball on Center's 10 yard line. A short pass from Kirwan to Evans saved the first touchdown. Evans failed to kick the goal. Score: Kentucky 6, Center 0. Kentucky then kicked off to the Lieutenants who made several line plunges but finally were held for downs. Evans made a 48 yard run and Tracy failed to gain through the line.

End of first quarter. Score, Kentucky 6, Center 0.

The second quarter was started by Tracy gaining 4 yards through Center's line. The Yearlings then gained 17 yards by end runs and line plunges. A series of passes failed and the ball went over to Center, who gained 35 yards on end runs. The Kentucky Freshmen then held Center for downs. Evans punted to the Colonels who again made two first downs before the whistle for the half blew.

Score. Kentucky 6, Center 0.

At the first of the third quarter Center made 14 yards through the

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF DEAN ANNA J. HAMILTON

It is with sincere regret that the Council of the University of Kentucky has heard of the death of Miss Anna J. Hamilton. Dean Hamilton was our colleague at the University for a number of years, serving as Dean of Women. She was intensely interested in her work and gave of her time and strength ungrudgingly for the promotion of sane social life and better scholarship. Her sympathetic attitude toward the problems of the student, and her wise counsel endeared her to those who came under her supervision.

TAU BETA PI PLEDGE SERVICE HELD OCT. 19

Dean Anderson Presides and Dean Frances Jewell Lectures on "Social Life."

Previous to the freshman matriculation lecture Oct. 19, the local chapter of Tau Beta Pi, engineers' national honorary fraternity pledged the second one-eighth of the class of '23 in highest standing, and the honor member from the class of '24. One-fourth of the engineers from the Senior Class are admitted to Tau Beta Pi annually according to scholarship, one half of this number being pledged in their junior year and the remainder at the beginning of their senior year. The first one-eighth of the class of '23, composing the local chapter are J. E. Burkes, Jr., W. P. Ballinger, Byron Williams, M. T. Skidmore, H. L. Royden, and W. T. Downing. The pledges from the class of '23 are Sam Ridgeway, Shepherdsville, L. C. Davidson, Jackson, James L. Shouse, Lexington, A. F. Arnold, Falmouth, J. F. Murfee, and Raymond Saur, Louisville. The honor member of the class of '24 is G. R. Page, Clintonville. Miss Cleveland, who would be honor of the class of '24 according to scholarship cannot be admitted to Tau Beta Pi under the constitution which eliminates women, but she shall be known as the Ellis Prize student and shall receive the one hundred dollars awarded that student at the end of her senior year. G. R. Page will also receive a hundred dollar prize.

Dean Anderson who presided at the ceremony gave a brief history of Tau Beta Pi, congratulated the local chapter and pledged on their attainment and congratulated Miss Cleveland for setting a new standard for engineers.

After the engineers completed their program, Dean Jewell lectured on "Social Life," impressing the idea that students should avoid extremes by not

WILDCATS TO FACE FIRST HARD BATTLE OF SEASON AGAINST SEWANEE TIGERS

Blue and White Supporters Hope

MARTIN BACK IN GAME

Average Weights of Both Teams
Show Them to Be Nearly Equal.

The Sewanee Tigers will make their biennial invasion of Stoll Field, Saturday, when they oppose the Wildcat eleven in what should be one of the most interesting games of the season. The Purples defeated the Cats last year 6-0 in a field of mud, and the Blue and White cohorts are determined to get revenge for this "mishap."

When the referee blows his whistle to start the game, the two teams should be as evenly matched as two teams could be. The average weights of the two elvens are practically equal. Sewanee, however, has played stronger teams than the Cats, and the Blue and White team will have to "go the limit" to defeat the Tigers.

Cammack, Russell and Martin have returned to the fold, but there is a small chance of either Cammack or Russell playing against the Tiger. Martin, however, will be back in his guard position for the fray. Freddie Fest, of widespread fame, will occupy the pivot position, with Martin and Captain Pribble at his side. Dell Ramsey will hold down one tackle with either Russell or Chidsey on the other side of Pribble. Chuck Rice and Colpitts are slated to open the game at end.

The regular backfield, that has astounded the spectators with its spectacular work, will start against the Tigers. In Gregg, at quarter, Ferguson and Fuller at halves, and Sanders at full, the Cats have one of the best backfields in the south. Bruce Fuller will probably do the punting with Chuck Rice and Turner Gregg to help him.

Sewanee has one of the best teams in its history, holding the University of Pennsylvania to a 27-0 score, and playing a 7-7 tie with Alabama last Saturday.

Detroit, October 28—(Last Saturday—Regular) dinner, 6:30, Dixieland Inn.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11—Kentucky Day, with Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lewis.

Lexington, Nov. 11—(Second Saturday—Regular) luncheon at 12:30, Phoenix Hotel. Address by Dr. A. D. Harmon, President of Transylvania College. The alumni of Transylvania will join in the luncheon.

Light is shed on the published news of football games played by the Wildcats in a letter received by the Alumni Secretary from H. M. Sheppard, State representative of the Associated Press. Mr. Sheppard says:

"I note that 'alumni in eastern cities have made repeated inquiries about the lack of news there of Kentucky football games' and that 'the alumni are numerous enough to have organized clubs which meet monthly in such places as New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver and elsewhere.' I am glad to tell you that the scores of all Kentucky collegiate games have been handled out of Louisville on our wires. In some instances, where the importance of the game warranted it, the scores have been accompanied by leads."

Committees from alumni approaching their local sporting editor with this quotation probably will get the results they seek. The principal games yet to be played are Sewanee, Vanderbilt, Center, Alabama and Tennessee.

UNIVERSITY LEADS COLLEGES

Relative Merits of Classical Schools is Subject of Debate

Relative scholastic merits of the several Kentucky colleges and Universities have been the subject of much comment recently, supplanting in part the discussion of football.

"The age-old superiority of the 'classical courses' in other Kentucky institutions is a hoax," says one Kentucky dean. He paid tribute to the present high standing of the Kentucky colleges and then presented his argument. The sixty-five members of the faculty of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, University of Kentucky, represent the leading universities of America, practically all of them holding advanced degrees, more than a dozen, the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. All the Kentucky Colleges combined have fewer teachers of the classics than the University.

A recent card from the University calls attention to "the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering and Law offer combined advantages unequalled elsewhere in Kentucky." There is much of an interchange of courses among these colleges. The University leads in the addition of professional courses like Art, Music, Business Administration and Journalism, for each of these calling an instructor who has been prominent in the practical field.

NOVEMBER 4 APPEALS

Home Coming Day is Center of Alumni Interest

The greatest crowd of alumni in history at a football game, is the promise for the Kentucky-Center tilt, November 4, Home Coming Day. Charles A. Mahan, chairman of arrangements, has had enthusiastic reports from his sixty-five county agents in Kentucky, members of a special committee.

Most of the alumni will be from Kentucky, though many from beyond the State have arranged vacations to fit this schedule. "Everything will be informal," says Mr. Mahan, luncheons before the game, "feeds" afterward and dancing in the evening. More than half the seats in the Alumni Section have been sold for the game.

OPPORTUNITY TO HELP ATHLETICS

In other columns of this issue of the Kernel appears a story setting forth initial efforts of loyal Alumni to establish upon the football field an Athletic Clubhouse, a building which the University has long needed and which is part of the equipment of the larger Universities.

The Athletic Council has decided to turn over for that purpose the net gains from gate admittance fees for Center-Freshman game to be played upon our ground November 11.

With this amount of money as a nucleus, it is the hope of Alumni promoters of the project to go before fellow Alumni with a plea for additional funds in the hope that enough money may be procured to commence building at an early date.

It was suggested to Athletic Council, by interested Alumni that if the students would co-operate to this end by foregoing the use for that day of their student admittance tickets and pay their way into the game an impressive sum could be added. The Athletic Council took the position, however, that it had no suggestion to make to students on this score; that the tickets they hold would admit them to the game, but that if the student voluntarily in interest of good sportsmanship in athletics desired so to co-operate it was entirely up to them. The Kernel believes that this would be an opportunity for students to co-operate with University authorities in an enterprise that is commendable and one long neglected upon the campus and it suggests that the Su-Ky Circle take the matter up and present it to the students for expression at the earliest possible time.

OPPORTUNITY FOR MUSICAL TRAINING

The University Glee Club and Band are the prime media through which those interested and talented in music find outlets for their ability in musical expression. However, throughout the entire collegiate year those students who are not admitted to either of these organizations will have opportunity to participate in musicals, concerts and operettas.

Prof. Carl Lampert, head of the College of Music of the University, announced last week thru the Kernel, that all men desiring to become members of the Glee Club were to report for practice Wednesday afternoon. In view of the fact that the number of students has increased so greatly over previous years, there should have been at least one hundred men to try out for Glee Club. Only a small number, mostly former members, reported.

The Men's Glee Club is an organization which admits approximately twenty-five men each. This number, however, is not limited to any certain number, and it would be a notable thing for the University if there should be a male chorus of fifty to lead the Musical Department. The small attendance for the first few days is due, probably in part to the fact that practice for Stroller tryouts is now being held every afternoon.

Students wishing to try out for Glee Club should report to the director immediately, as the personnel of new members will be chosen as soon as possible.

The club has an interesting number of plans to be carried out this year, including a tour in the western part of the State, and will give concerts in the largest cities.

This department has been handicapped for a number of years, because of insufficient funds to carry out the plans and desires of Professor Lampert, who has worked long and hard to attain the height which the department has now reached thru student fees this year.

MUSICAL DEPT. NOTES.

Prospects this year point to the best Glee Club the University has ever had, and that is saying a lot to those who remember the days of Auryne Bell, Crawford Anderson, and the inimitable little Hicks.

The greatest augur for this predicted success is the great interest being taken in the announcement of the program for this year.

Herbert Graham, alumni secretary, announces that many towns over the state have evidenced a desire to hear the club this year and two trips are being arranged.

The first itinerary will more than likely include Richmond, Irvine, Ravenna, Beattyville, Jackson, Hazard and Whitesburg in the order named. A number of alumni are in each town and a successful trip is assured. The other trip is to include Louisville, Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and perhaps Bowling Green and Hopkinsville.

In addition a week-end trip to Ashland is anxiously desired by the Alumni Club of that town.

The outcome of this year's program and the calibre of the club produced will decide whether the trips east to entertain the Kentucky Clubs of New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington materialize. The clubs of these cities want it.

The fact remains that every man who has any talent whatever vocally or instrumentally must come out to back the club. Sunday afternoon might be used as a practice time, according to Professor Lampert, until "Ermine" is off stage.

NOTICE!

Judge Lyman Chalkey, of the Law College faculty, has been persuaded to re-organize his Bible Class, stopped on account of the war. About thirty men of the law college evinced a desire in the form of a petition to him.

The class held its first regular meeting last Sunday morning at Christ Church Cathedral at which Robert Porter was elected president, and G. E. Sparks was elected secretary-treasurer.

Judge Chalkey is a noted lecturer on the Bible and an excellent course is anticipated by the members.

cording to Professor Lampert, until "Ermine" is off stage.

Upon the campus has appeared that indispensable organization to proper enjoyment of college life, the University male quartet.

Already after dusk, have the fair inhabitants of a number of dormitories and sorority houses been enraptured beyond measure by the blending melodies of the four phantoms.

Already from the direction of Louisville has come the call for numbers from this organization, to sing to the W.H.A.S. broadcasting station Kentucky Day, November 11. The program on that day is to consist of things pertaining to Kentucky. President McVey is on the program for a speech.

Theaters over Kentucky have made offers already to the embryo organization but no definite plans have been made.

The members of the quartet are all veterans of the Men's Glee Club.

The personnel is as follows:

Robert Clem, first tenor; Maxwellton Heavrin, second tenor; Elbert De Coursey, baritone; Robert Porter, bass.

They will be a part of the regular Glee Club program when that organization gets on the road.

Y. M. & Y. W. NOTES

The Young Woman's Christian Association, under the direction of Miss Mathilda Vossler of the Finance Department of the National Board, is conducting a finance drive this week among the students, faculty and friends of the association for the purpose of raising the annual budget which is set at $1000 this year. The drive started Monday and will end today.

Tuesday the various soliciting teams were organized as follows: Katherine Elliott, chairman of town girls; Mabel Ruth Coates, chairman of sorority girls; Elizabeth Weller, chairman of dormitory girls and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, member of the Advisory Board of the association, chairman of the faculty. Solicitors were appointed under each chairman, with approximately twenty girls for every team to see. By this arrangement everyone will have an opportunity to contribute to the organization. Competition among the various teams has been running high and everything seems to indicate that there will be a full budget by Friday night when the final report will be given in.

The annual Recognition services for the new members of Y. W. C. A. will be held Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Patterson Hall. It is hoped that there will be a large crowd in attendance and that a great many of the new members will come for the ceremony. A special choir is practicing this week for the musical part of the program and the Hall will be especially decorated for the service. All girls who have signed a membership card in the recent campaign are asked to dress in white and to be present at 6:15.

A tea for Miss Mathilda Vossler, who is assisting with the finance campaign of the Y. W. C. A. this week, was given at Patterson Hall by the Young Woman's Christian Association Wednesday afternoon. During the afternoon reports were given from the various chairmen as to the progress of the drive. A part of the fund will be sent to Miss Stokley, missionary to South America, whom the University is helping to support.

Members of the Y. W. C. A., faculty women and faculty wives were entertained with music and South American dancing. The recreation hall was attractively decorated with jack-o-lanterns, candles and ferns; wafers and mints were served with the tea. Miss Frances Jewell presided at the tea urn.

Lucille Youngblut, undergraduate representative of the Y. W. C. A., who returned from the Student Council Conference in Atlanta, Georgia, last week was the principal speaker at the Sunday evening meeting which was led by Elizabeth Hume, President of the Y. W. Dorothy Bonar, a freshman, sang a solo, assisted at the piano by Lucile Bush. At the close of the program Miss Hume introduced Miss Vossler, who gave a short talk.

Professor Farquhar spoke at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held in the Men's Dormitory Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

indulging in either study or society to the exclusion of the other and should combine work and social life by a hearty interest in both books and people. "Everything we study is for the purpose of knowing human nature and understanding people. We learn history in order to know human relations and improve our part in society which effects every one. We want to know how to mingle with other people for we have to live together and are dependent upon each other.

"The University develops us mentally, spiritually, physically, and socially if we do withdraw ourselves from its benefits by false pride in smaller contacts and contented adherence to boasted faults, mistakes, and limitations. We do not break social laws for they are the rules by which we must express ourselves in actions in order to be understood; just as we write in accordance with rules and usage in order to make our meaning clear. Conventions and etiquette make society smoother, and politeness and consideration at all times make life easier for each one. Every attention to professors and people with whom we come in daily contact adds pleasure to their lives. Cleanliness, neatness, and health are also of social importance for regard for others will prevent our presenting a disagreeable appearance or spreading colds owing to a lack of proper care.

"Life is worth living when we enjoy our work and have contact with people of God. The ideal of the University is to make people have a fullness and abundance of life, for what we practice now is what we will use later. The University is more than buildings and professors; it is a spirit—and we want to see a full life of satisfaction on looking back over our university days. If, in our varied life here, we learn 'The art of living,' we will not 'have spent our time in vain.'

ARMENIAN CONDITIONS DESCRIBED BY SPEAKER

Miss Waller Talks at Midweek Service of Y. W. C. A. on Campus

Miss Margaret Waller, assistant in the University library, spoke at the midweek Y. W. C. A. service last week on her experiences in Armenian relief work. The time of the weekly meeting was changed by unanimous consent to Wednesday the first half of the fifth hour, instead of Friday, in order to suit the convenience of the largest number of girls. This hour will be permanent, and it is hoped that many students will attend this "Y" meeting on the campus.

Miss Waller told graphically of her trials while in the Near East, where she helped conduct an Armenian orphanage during the war. The Turks made a two months siege on the territory, the speaker said, and sandbags had to be piled in the windows to keep bullets out. The Americans were shot at every time they went out on the street, and the town was attacked regularly every night.

Finally the Turks were victorious in the section, Miss Waller said, and most of the foreigners were forced to evacuate. The relief workers succeeded at first in winning the friendship of the Turks, but later had to leave the locality.

Many strange customs were encountered there. The American women were the only ones in the whole town wearing hats. No woman could go out at any time alone, but must be accompanied, if only by a servant.

Engineering for the Buyer

It is not enough that electrical apparatus should be carefully conceived, skillfully designed, and exactly manufactured.

Engineering, to fulfill all its functions, must go beyond these necessary steps and do a still more enlightened service. It must apply the apparatus to its uses, so that not only in design and construction but in service as well, all the conditions that must be reckoned with are fully satisfied.

This function of Westinghouse application engineering covers many fields, and charges itself with many responsibilities. It is engineering that concerns itself with almost every aspect of business, central station, transportation, industrial, mining, electro-chemical, etc. It has the buyer's interest constantly at heart.

Westinghouse Application Engineering works with salesmen, with buyers, with consulting engineers, with contractors, and with service and repair men; it finds and investigates new fields; it checks the behavior of apparatus, old and new; it is a bridge over which information passes freely in both directions between Westinghouse and its thousands of clients and friends.

Be glad that you are to live and work in times when the spirit of service dominates commercial operations. The greatest change that has occurred in business in the last few decades has been in the minds of men. No longer need the buyer beware for it is now known that the seller's obligation reaches beyond the completion of the sale; and that it is both wise and right that every reasonable effort be made to give the buyer full value in both product and satisfaction. The practice of this policy requires engineering of the highest type in research, design, manufacturing and every other phase of Westinghouse operations, but nowhere to greater degree than in the field of application engineering, which is essentially engineering for the buyer.

CATS TROUNCE TIGERS IN SCRAPPY GRIDIRON BATTLE - SCORE 40 TO 6

Four Regulars Missing From
Wildcat Team as Kentucky
Defeats Georgetown

FOURTH SCALP OF YEAR

Gregg Kicks Field Goal—Orange and Black Score Lucky
Marker

Outplaying, outclassing and out-weighing their opponents, the Wildcat eleven defeated the Georgetown Tigers last Saturday at the lair of the Tiger, 40-6. The lone Georgetown marker came in the second period when Bauer, Tiger lineman picked up a Kentucky fumble and ran the length of the field for a touchdown.

The Blue and White eleven entered the fray lacking three of its regular linemen, Russell, Cammack and Martin, who have been on the hospital list and who were given an extra week of rest by Coach Juneau. These three stars returned to practice Monday and will probably appear in the lineup against Sewanee.

Cats Fumble Often

The Cats fumbled several times at critical moments causing the score to be much lower than it should have been. One misplay caused the only Tiger touchdown. With a week's hard practice, however, the Wildcats should return to their good form exhibited in previous encounters this year, and should give Sewanee the fight of its life Saturday when the Purples make their biennial invasion of Stoll Field.

Barring the lucky break in the second period when the Tigers scored their only points and a brief time during the last quarter, the Wildcat reigned supreme, earning twenty-nine first downs to the Tigers' lone one. The entire squad, for practically all of the Cats entered the fray, showed up well. Turner Gregg ran the team in his usual style, also booting a field goal in the first quarter.

Backs Gain at Will

Sanders, Ferguson, Fuller gained ground with their accustomed manner, as did Elliott, W. H. Rice, Netherton and Neal. The work of "Big Jim" Strauss at guard was one of the features of the contest, Jim breaking thru the Tiger line and throwing the Gold and Black back for a loss several times.

With the Tiger battle, the Wildcats relegated the easiest contests of the year to the past, and must now prepare for five consecutive hard struggles, Sewanee plays here Saturday, followed by Center, Vanderbilt, Alabama and Tennessee in the order named. All of these will be bitter contests and the Wildcat must stretch himself to come out on the winning side of the battles.

The lineup and summary of the Tiger scrap:

Kentucky	Georgetown

CROSS COUNTRY RUN TO BE HELD SATURDAY 28

First Six that Finish Will be Given
Bronze Medals—Other
Meetings Scheduled

Cross country aspirants for the varsity team and the freshman "hare and hound" chasers as well, are fast rounding into shape for the class cross country meet to run just before the Sewanee game Saturday.

Especially since the announcement that letters and sweaters are to be awarded to those coming up to the requirement, even greater interest than heretofore has been evinced by those students having aspirations. About forty candidates have come out and the trials last Friday presented an excellent study in colors for the art students with the varicolored jerseys and trunks.

Fifteen finished the trial and freshmen were conspicuous by absence from the first five finishing, owing perhaps to the absence of Hall, the sturdy little Louisville High star.

Gorman finished first with Porter, Daniels and Greenbaum breasting the tape in order named. It was only recently that Porter decided to take up when the left off last fall after winning the State meet, and the coach predicts him to be in mid-season form before the Cincinnati meet November 11.

Brown and Ogden, members of last year's championship track team, were out of the line up Friday. They will make somebody "hump" for a place. Bronze medals are to be given to the first six finishing Saturday.

The not being the final means whereby Coach Bucheit may choose his varsity, the skit Saturday will go a long way toward giving him a line on "who's who."

The gun for the big chase will be sounded at 2:00 o'clock, one-half hour before the whistle is sounded for the annual Sewanee-Kentucky clash.

The Pop Contest

Undoubtedly the biggest piece of foolishness annually revealed in this school is the girl's popularity contest. The idea of the competition penalizes it from the start. Popularity, never an attribute of superiority, is usually offensive; professional popularity always is. Even a sensible girl is more bearable than a popular one. Be that as it is, however, none of those chosen, with the exception of one and possibly two, are the most popular girls in school. The ordeal takes its place as a rank piece of politics, with the sororities as the protagonists in the farce.

The excuse the contest has for existence, is, of course, the place it fills in the annual. It is necessary and quite fitting that a section be devoted to some diversion of this kind. The mission it should really fulfill is to bring spring flowers to the autumn leaves of the yearbook. However, if beauty rather than popularity were the requirement for eligibility, the political dust would probably be as noisome as it is at present. All one can do is request that every man who loves the old school vote, not as his judgment, but as his instincts dictate.

A good date is one who will let you kiss her; a nice date, one who will kiss you.

Professions for College Men III—MUSIC

College men who live in this, the rag-time age, are indeed fortunate. If they are musically inclined, they are even more favored. The supply of jungle music is never equal to the demand, and the school-boy can turn his idle moments to good account by mastering the delayed beat and the shivery syncopation of Voodoo discords on piano, cornet and drum. An amazing number of students are helping themselves through school by playing in dance orchestras. In fact, many step into the ranks of professionals when they leave college.

There is, however, an aspect to this modern profession of music, more lucrative than mere virtuosity. I speak of composition. The writing of popular music is a most engaging occupation, while requiring but a small amount of intelligence. The basic requirement, to practice the trade successfully, is the ability to filch the melodies of other song-hits and blend them gracefully.

The first principle for the young composer to learn, is the fact that all songs designed to meet with popular favor must be sentimental. Of strictly sentimental themes, there are two: Mother and Ireland. These surgery opii seem to touch the heart of every American regardless of his race. If the possibilities of creative work in the above mentioned department are exhausted, there is the "topical song" to fall back upon. The ditties that fall under this head require little effort at music, as they depend chiefly on their words to put the song over. They are usually talked, rather than sung, and may concern any topic that can be treated cleverly in doggerel. Generally speaking, the lyrics may be quoted backwards, with exactly the same meaning and effect as forwards. This makes no difference, however, for if "just folks" like it, it is a success. Within the last few years, the richest source of music has been the "blue" songs that are now a vital part of the national life. These melodies, or more precisely, lack of melodies, require no originality. One has only to take the pattern of the usual blue song, vary about two notes, and call it the "Boo-Hoo Blues."

Subsidiary to the blue melodies and a part of the same class, is the most dependable source of inspiration that the song-writer has: Dixie. Any catchy phrase that has a slight swing to it, can be localized below the Mason and Dixon line, and be chanted by the nation. The favored states in these harmonic masterpieces seem to be Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee, although none of the southerners are slighted. Why the South should be chosen for a musical background with such unflinching regularity, I do not profess to know. Possibly it comes from long training. Can one, for instance, imagine a song laid "On the Piney Shores of Dreamy Idaho?" One cannot.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Professor Carl Lampert will give a delightful musical program in chapel Tuesday. All Freshmen are expected to occupy the seats assigned to them. Absence from chapel means the same as being away from any other class. The monitors will report absentees. November 7th, Bishop Woodcock, Protestant Episcopal Bishop, and a very distinguished church man, will address the Freshman chapel.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, head of the Department of Zoology, left today for Burnside, Ky., where he will make extensive explorations in Wayne county. His classes will be taken care of by Dr. Allen.

Tusitalia was the name given to the new literary organization on the campus, formerly called the Junior Scribblers, at their meeting held last Friday evening in the Woman's League Room. The word means "tellers of tales." The club laid plans for the year, including the holding of bi-monthly meetings on the second and fourth Fridays, and the conducting of a literary column in one of the local newspapers. The next meeting is to be held tonight at 7:30 in the Woman's League Room. Program will be given by William Hickerson, Mary Snyder and Wilna Brown. All members are asked to be present.

A meeting of the Kentucky Association of the Deans of Women was held in Richmond last Friday and Saturday, with Miss Marie Roberts, Dean of Women of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, as hostess.

A reception was given in honor of the visiting deans on Friday night and Saturday morning the visited the Waco potteries where an address was made by President Coates, of the Eastern Normal.

At the business meeting Saturday afternoon Miss Frances Jewell was re-elected president; Miss Catherine Bowersox, of Berea College, vice-president; and Miss Marie Roberts, secretary.

The meeting will be held at Bowling Green next year.

A set of Blue Books, used in connection with the National Reporters' System, has arrived at the Law Library. This makes the system complete and is a ready reference to decisions of all State and Federal courts.

FRESHMEN HEAR DOCTOR WARD IN WEEKLY CHAPEL

"Do Your Best," Is Advice Given To Those Beginning College Career.

Professor Carl Lampert, head of the music department, opened the chapel exercises for the Freshman Class of the University of Kentucky, Tuesday morning, with two beautiful violin selections accompanied by Mrs. Lampert. Dean Boyd read the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians followed by the Lord's prayer in which the students joined. After a few announcements Dr. Ward, pastor of the Methodist Church, was introduced as the speaker of the morning.

Dr. Ward felt assured that if he could tell us how to defeat Center College in football, he would have a hearing; however, his advice to us was, as the soothsayer told the battling Greeks, "Do your best." All life is as college and nothing is won by wishing. Most students believe college prepares one for life, but if one is not a success in college he can never hope to attain success later. Some men die at 17, the high school age, some at 20, the college age, and others never lived at all. The question everyone should ask himself is, "Am I a success?" The measure of success is not money or social position alone, not the amount of things you possess but the things you are.

The freshmen are fortunate for when they come to college everything is new to them and their first year is one of golden opportunity. They should set their aim high, gain fine friendships and cultivate the ability to cast themselves out in the universe. In the cultivation of our mind and the development of our body we should not forget God. We should have faith, derived from facts of our own experience and we'll live forever.

Kirwan then gained 3 yards and Evans made a 41 yard run around left end and was hurt quite badly in this play. Derrick went in for Evans and made 10 yards. End of third quarter. Score, Kentucky 6, Center 0.

In the last quarter several end runs and a pass from Kirwan to Dabney put the ball on Center's one yard line. Derrick fumbled and Gleim recovered the ball and ran 95 yards for a touchdown. Rubenstein kicked the goal. Score, Kentucky 6, Center 7. Center then kicked to the Yearlings and both teams exchanged punts. Center then made 25 yards on an end run

ATHLETIC CLUB HOUSE TO BE BUILT ON CAMPUS

Net Gains of State-Center Freshmen Game Will Go to Start Building Fund.

The first steps toward establishing an Athletic Clubhouse on the campus, were taken at a meeting of the Athletic Council, that lasted until midnight, last Tuesday night, when the Council decided to accept the proposition of a prominent alumnus that the University construct such a building. The council decided to devote the net proceeds of the Center-Kentucky Freshman game to be played here November 11, as a nucleus for this fund, which is expected to be increased by gifts from the alumni.

The promoters hope to start the building as soon as enough money is secured to begin construction. The Clubhouse will be built perhaps, on Stoll Field, where the entrance now is, and will be used as a gathering place for athletes and a dressing room for the teams and officials. Perhaps the main entrance will be through the building.

If it is possible, the promoters of the scheme may construct rooms for the use of athletes as living quarters. If this is done the rooming problem of the University will be greatly relieved.

The proposition was given to the Council that the students of the University do not use their athletic tickets at the game, but the council decided not to ask the student to do this. However, if the students of the University desire to help in this proposition, they may pay the admission fee at the gate. Athletic tickets will be honored.
